maybe you died
'cuz everybody ask me
where you at
i try to channel you in hopes that i could stear you back
but it's like every intersection we just missed each other you got your fans waitin' tell me you ain't six feet under and tell me that you're coming back that you just took a break maybe i blamed you for everything that was my mistake
in high and sight,
i loved your rawness
and i loved your edge
'cuz it was you who talked me down from jumping off the ledge your earrings bamboo
your long nails too
your bmw
everytime you came through you was the brave heart
you stole wayne heart
you never switched it up
you played that same part but i needed to grow
and i needed to know
but there's some things inside of me
that i needed to show
so i just deaded you
left you in all black
but dear old nicki,
please call back

(Chorus)

you told me you'd come
when i needed you
and you said it so sweetly
i believed you
but i'm standing here calling
i cant see you

but i am holding you,
holding you,
holding you to that

yo, did i chase the glitz and glamor, money, fame, and power?
'cuz if so, that will forever go down my lamest hour
i should've kept you with me

getting at the nameless cowards they was no match for you, couldn't defeat your powers
i had to make them changes, i hope you understood
you see for every bad,
i did a ton of good
but you was underground,
and i was mainstream
i live the life now
that we would daydream
my only wish is
you come enjoy it with me
get on them conference calls go meet the lawyers with me
the money came, yeah
i tripled and quadrupled it
but i just miss us
when we were on some stupid shit and it's still fuck the media
they ridiculed you,
never believed in ya
dear old nicki,

yes, i'm holding you,
holding you,
holding you

yes, i'm holding you,
holding you

holding you
yes, i'm holding you,
holding you
