you say left when i see right then you keep talking words and your tears fall down everytime we take some little breaks to make it alright you told me oh

listen carefully don't be scared now make your dreams belong where they can't fall down all these people left because they don't like what you say when you say

hold my hand lets not fight we've got so long left to write all i wants to be a better man watch you take this like you wrote it one more chance or all of our dreams go down feel like goin back on me well don't you ever say what i said and oh all i need is you to win this and fall to pieces prayin' like you do second chances washed away i don't like what you say

hold my hand squeeze it tight we got never left in sight
a better man

here i stand again

i'm falling into you and me here i stand below i'm falling into
then we keep talking words and our tears fall down people talking words they say our feelings run themselves

we got so long left to write

a better man [x3]
