Beneath the smash-gulf gold
There lies a tale untold
This tale so deep that I've been carrying all my life
I can't release my thoughts
Like in a frozen dream
It must be building up like water fills a stream

Home and where I long to be
Is all the world beneath a shady mask of green, blue and gold
Doubts for all I seem to see Can I not find you in a misty dawn of green, blue and gold

You see a world of space
A world that has no door
A door would open up the secrets of my mind
I try to climb way high
But there's no climb defeat
I must prepare myself for any world is out of your morn

Here within my coat of blue I stand presenting all for you to see and feel, touch and hold
Remember I'm not to be disturbed
If you can tow your words you'll share my mask of green, blue and gold
