You and me and she and he and he
And we agree to be happy happy happy
And we will be completely in control

We want to go to Paradise, everyone there says it's so nice
Everyone's got their own TV with their own episode of Biography
Everyone's got twenty-five lovers and each one dreams only of me

Chorus
Gotta find Tomorrowland
Gotta find Tomorrowland
Gotta find Tomorrowland
Gotta find Tomorrowland

The boat the boat the boat, d'you think that it will float?
The boat will take us to places far remote
That's the joke, the boat has got us by the throat

We went out to Saturn to see our friend Stevie
He met us at the door and said, "I was just leaving
But I got you a gig at the only club on this world"

Chorus

When your dream comes true you're out one dream
When your dream comes true you're out one dream

I left you a clue, a mark, a trail in view
My work, my art, my little glass shoe
Leave the ball while you're hot so they remember you

Yeah I left that ball, I walked out fast 'cause I knew the good times couldn't last
I left my shoe so that you would take it but I kept my heart so you couldn't break it
Yeah I left that shoe behind for you to remind you of our love

Chorus
