"The Path Goes On ..."

Whenever I see the sun shines
I can't believe it's true
Because I know that you have died
And I loved you

Nevermore a rainbow appears
On the horizon
Oh I will burst into tears
When I sing this song

You were the wind beneath my wings
Taught me to be free
With you I lived among the kings
Why did you leave me?

Still holding on to the dreams torn apart
You know that I will follow my heart
Even when the candlelight goes out
I cry for you so loud

We were the only, we were all
I just can't realize you've gone
There are no last words to say
Only memories remain

One day I will follow you
To the sacred land
The paradise of which I know
And take your hand

A farewell then, to you I belong
The path goes forever on!
(And on ..)
(And on ..)
