"Hello? Oh"

With your knife and your bottle and your silver spoon,
No one knows what you're gonna do
So stay away from everything that isn't true
Cos when I hung around with someone else
Take your anger off the shelf
And arrange it in a way that no one else could do
But you

Cos if you're dying I'd like to know
And if you're on one I need to show
Cos you were saying you was alone
Well there's something you need to know

I'm sixteen and I'm really bored
But we're not gonna use you we're just scared we're gonna lose you
Things are better when you are on board
I'm sure

But if you're dying I'd like to know
And if you're on one I need to show
Cos you were saying you was alone
Well there's something you need to know
That you will always be my hero
With the way that you're letting go
And were saying that you was alone
Well there's something you need to know
