The time has come, I am leaving now Destination: sunken world of gold I've been dreaming every night
And finally I'm on my way Never gonna let it go Always gonna keep the dream alive
Nothing's gonna change my mind
I know I'm gonna find the way this time I'll see Atlantis rising
I burn my bridges, no return
I'll see Atlantis rising Defy the storm, I make my way To where I believe the treasure lies I'll find the place that I was told Is where the oceans took it down below Never gonna let it go
Always gonna keep the dream alive
Nothing's gonna change my mind
I know I'm gonna find the way this time I'll see Atlantis
rising
I burn my bridges, no return
I'll see Atlantis rising All my life I've had this feeling That I'm not really home And it feels like I'm lost forever I've be dreaming with the shadows of the night I've been singing to the angels of the lonely wind of the light They've been telling me to leave it be But I am closer to the waters where the gold will be one with my eyes The horizon is telling me that I am near That my journey is soon to end and my life is soon to begin I am waiting for the night to come
When the lost world will resurface When the dawn light the sparks in the sky I hear the roar the surface come alive out here Unruly waves caresse my tear-filled face
I can't believe it's true, this can't be happening to me I never thought I'd live to see this miracle right before my eyes I find it hard to realize That my dream would finally come true

I'm reaching out, I can touch the ground Of my resurrected paradise I am walking on the streets of gold
I can feel the magic in the air
Now the ground begins to shake again
I feel we're sinking but I stay right here I saw Atlantis
rising
I'm going down, there's no return
I saw Atlantis rising I saw Atlantis rising
I fade away I let the waters feed my soul
I saw Atlantis rising
I am finally home again
