"Come Clean"

Better save the lies you're about to tell for someone who dont know you're lyin' so well Better save the tears you're about to cry for someone who's new to the tears of a liar

Baby, don't come around, don't come around here
Baby, don't come around, don't come around here

You could say I've felt the wind of change
Yeah, you might say I'm acting a little strange
You could say I'm in a mood today
I'm not down, I'm just out, out of things to say

There's a change comin' on Better come clean with yourself
Better turn the light on before you lose yourself
Better save the lies you're about to tell
Better save them for someone else
How can I believe you when you don't believe yourself?
