Go ahead and cry baby, cry baby all night long
Just like I cried baby on the pillow that you used to lay
on

The sun is out and my sorrow's finally drowned
So go on and turn it up 'cause it's my favorite song
I sucked it up and washed your memory down
I've finally let you go and now you comin' back around

One minute sooner and my heart was good as gold
But time's a bitch and now it's turned my heart to stone

So go ahead and cry baby, cry baby all night long
Just like I cried baby on the pillow that you used to lay
on

You made our bed and now I gladly lay in it 'Cause there's way more room and I use every single bit
It's true it's sad 'cause you and I we were the shit
'Cause our love was real and all you got now's counterfeit

But it's cool I'm feelin' better all the time
As long as I know that you sittin' home cryin'

So go ahead and cry baby, cry baby all night long
Just like I cried baby on the pillow that you used to lay
on
Go ahead and cry baby
Go ahead and cry baby

One minute sooner and my heart was good as gold
But time's a bitch and now it's turned my heart to stone

So go ahead and cry baby, cry baby all night long Yeah, just like I cried baby on the pillow that you used to lay on

Go ahead and cry baby, cry baby all night long
Just like I cried baby on the pillow that you used to lay
on

'Cause I need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better

I need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better

I need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better

I need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
Need a little something to make me feel better
