She stands by the door
She made up her mind
She cleans up the mess she's left behind
And as she takes one last look
She lets out a smile
A little scared but she knows
He's by my side

This is the day, it's finally come
She's on her way, the past is gone
Movin' on to a brighter day
Movin' on to a brighter day

She said it would be hard
Not too long ago
She can't believe that now she's ready to go
There's no holding back
And no holding on
She calms herself as she lets go

Closing the door, she walks away
The past is behind, change starts today
Enter the open door at last
She's not alone, she never was
I know You
I believe You
