The little boy i met today with the evil eye reminded me
of you

With his little catapult thing, i gave him a look as if to say "just you try" reminded me of you

All the missiles intercepting missiles meet
All the broken republics breakdown
All the centuries of cities crash
I'll meet you on the other side of now
I see you on the other side of now
I want you on the other side of now

And the shiny streets below the rathmines clock, i was walking to the beat reminded me of you And the siren came from the street last night, was trying to sleep , reminded me of you

All the missiles intercepting missiles meet
All the broken republics breakdown
All the centuries of cities crash
I'll meet you on the other side of now
I see you on the other side of now
I want you on the other side of now

And the sweet temptation like a corner shop everywhere i turn reminding me of you And the coloured ?? upon my finger, finger burning, reminding me of you
And the cover on the magazine, beauty shines
reminding me of you
How history repeats itself, love is blind reminding me
of you

All the missiles intercepting missiles meet
All the broken republics breakdown
All the centuries of cities crash
I'll meet you on the other side of now
I see you on the other side of now
I want you on the other side of now

I want you on the other side of now
