Raindrops are falling, outside your window
Time ran away and it goes the way the wind blows
I say the words I think, though, it's hard to realize That faith made bright days to dark nights
We all start a fight, to survive life
We cry when born and we cry when we die
We're not here to say "goodbye"
We're here to say "hi"
Cause we haven't seen you in a while

chours

I didn't know, we caught the last flight
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side
I'll try to keep my head up high
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side

Raindrops are falling', down from the sky
Angels are crying, cause you made them alive
You can't decide faith, cause faith decides you
But I know when you're smiling cause it makes the sky blue
Sometimes I cry for you, when sunshine is out of sight
I'm not that strong, when this horrifying night arrives
We're not here to say "goodbye"
We're here to say "hi"
Cause we haven't seen you in a while

chours

I didn't know, we caught the last flight
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side
I'll try to keep my head up high
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side

Raindrops are falling, like my mood right now
The birds last flight, blew the last lights out
I ask myself, why your life flew away
You want to see my thoughts? Go ahead, choose a page
I can understand why older people pass away
But I can't understand why my sister took the same way 26 years, and so much more to carry

You and Daniel was supposed to get married
You will always be a daughter, and a beautiful bride Sad enough, I didn't have a chance to see you walking down the aisle
We're not here to say "goodbye", we're here to say "hi"
Cause we haven't seen you in a while

chours

I didn't know, we caught the last flight
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side
I'll try to keep my head up high
Don't be afraid, I'm always by your side
