She awakens from a dream to a silent room
Where shadows speak of memories
Another sleepless night
Afraid to face the day

It seems so long ago
She shared the love she feels so deep inside
Her love will never die
But still she feels so lonely, lonely in love, lonely in love

She wakes up to another day
With everything going wrong
She wonders where she would be
If she had never seen his face

She turns on the radio
But it's playing that same old song
She's pouring another drink
To drown away the memory of it all

She can't wait another night
Take another day
She doesn't want to be
Lonely in love, lonely in love

There's a feeling she can't explain
That no one can understand
She just needs to get away
But there's nowhere that she can go

Tomorrow's so far away
She's longing for yesterday
If she could just turn back time
She wants to leave the world behind

And, oh, she can't wait another night
Take another day
She doesn't want to be
Lonely in love

Lonely in love, lonely in love
Lonely in love, lonely in love

The night will fade, the sun will shine
A new day
And light the way for you to find
(New love)
