Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
On the streets of the city, what a way to come down.
Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
Nobody loves them, now they're on the ground.

They've only tried to reach the sun to find out where it
all begun
Their heads got turned, their wings got burnt
And now they're lying on the ground.

Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
On the streets of the city, what a way to come down.

They've only tried to reach the sun to find out where it
all begun
Their heads got turned, their wings got burnt
And now they're lying on the ground.

Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
On the streets of the city, what a way to come down.
Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
On the streets of the city, what a way to come down.
Fallen angels, fallen on the highways
On the streets of the city, what a way to come down.
