Come on everybody, it's nearly six o'clock
It's time for you to get to get to get up
Wake up wake up brothers and wash your faces It's time for you to joke and move and walk, time to get up.

You better listen to the master son, listen to the master
son
Listen to the master son, he's got the place.

Have you made today your twelve thousand holes
In twelve thousand sheets of paper, did you ?
Have you kissed your mother, father, cousin, uncle
Children, godfather et caetera ?

You better listen to the master son, listen to the master
son
Listen to the master son, he's got your name.
Now want you wake up brothers and sisters
Now want you wake up, open your eyes.

Have you got your car, your job, your telephone and your TV
And everything you need to be happy and free ?
Now listen everybody, I'm gonna teach you the way
To live, to love, to lay, to lie, to be.

If you really want to make it, if you really want to make it
If you really want to make it, let's do.
