feat. Chris McDonald & Jill Francis

You called me up and left a message on my answer phone
I knew you were leaving and I came back
You're leaving me alone

You called your best friend, I know she knows what's going on
It wouldn't surprise me if he were there, listening all
I got to lend your love and back, I knew you'd care
I can't let you out of my life, I want you by my side

So please come back
You've been trying to get me back for a long, long while
I remember where you've been when you sneak inside
So don't try pulling again
'Cause I won't be that fool again

There's no other girl but you that I want
I knew that you were unhappy but I didn't want to see
But losing your love has brought things to me
Stark reality of how love should be
Said I just can't stop thinking about your love
So how do you feel, I know our love was real Aren't you even wondering?
Lost in hope, there's a chance for me
Almost stupid, girl, when no one sees me

You've been trying to get me back for a long, long
while
Please come back
I remember where you've been when you sneak inside
Please come back
So don't try pulling again
'Cause I won't be that fool again

Lost in hope, there's a chance for me
Almost stupid, girl, when no one sees me

You've been trying to get me back for a long, long
while
Please come back
I remember where you've been when you sneak inside
Please come back
So don't try pulling again
'Cause I won't be that fool again

You've been trying to get me back for a long, long
while
I remember where you've been when you sneak inside
So don't try pulling again
'Cause I won't be that fool again
