Some people say that the fate of a man
Is written down in the plam of his hand
Others say they can see it all in the cards and how they fall

I don't need my fortune told
As long as I've got you to hold
I can live with the mystery as long as you're loving me

Looking up at the stars tonight
I can't read 'em but I love the light
Heaven knows I'm right where I wanna be
As long as you're loving me

I don't need a crystal ball
Wouldn't even wanna know at all
I've got everything I need
As long as you're loving me

Who knows what tomorrow brings
One day changes everything
I'm willing to wait and see
As long as you're loving me

Looking up at the stars tonight
I can't read 'em but I love the light
Heaven knows I'm right where I wanna be
As long as you're loving me

I don't need my fortune told
As long as I've got you to hold
I can live with the mystery as long as you're loving me

I've got everything I need as long as you're loving me
As long as you're loving me
Oh, as long as you're loving me
