"Grandpa Was A Carpenter"

Oh, grandpa wore his suit to dinner nearly every day
No particular reason, he just dressed that way Brown necktie with a matching vest and both his wingtip shoes
He built a closet on our back porch and put a penny in a burned-out fuse

Grandpa was a carpenter, he built houses, stores and banks
Chain-smoked camel cigarettes, and hammered nails
in planks
He would level on the level, he shaved even every door
And voted for eisenhower, 'cause lincoln won the war

Well, he used to sing me "blood on the saddle" and rock me on his knee
And let me listen to the radio before we got tv Well, he'd drive to church on sunday and he'd take me with him too Stained glass in every window, hearing aids in every pew

banks
Chain-smoked camel cigarettes, and hammered nails
in planks
And voted for eisenhower, 'cause lincoln won the war

Well, my grandma was a teacher, she went to school in bowling green
Traded in a milking cow for a singer sewing machine Well, she called her husband "mister," and she walked real tall and proud She used to buy me comic books after grandpa died

banks
Chain-smoked camel cigarettes, and hammered nails
in planks

And voted for eisenhower, 'cause lincoln won the war
