Paulina

She's on the cover of a magazine

Paulina

A woman in my nightly dreams

Paulina

Who makes me grin in any pose

Paulina

I wish she'd take off all her clothes

Paulina

Well I stare at her pictures all day long

Paulina

And as I do I sing this song

Paulina

My father says to act my age

Paulina

As I single handedly turn the page

Paulina

Well I paste her pictures on the wall

Paulina

Sit by the phone and hope she'll call

Paulina

Although I know she never will

Paulina

To indulge myself is such a thrill

Paulina

She's the big red apple of my eye

Paulina

I wish she'd lay down by my side

Paulina

But if she ever knew my pursuit

Paulina

She would probably file a huge lawsuit

Yeah oh
