The past few years I've come to know
A place that turns it's back on everything I own
A place where change is wrong
And where I've held my dreams for far too fucking long
Tomorrow is the only place I own
Today is all I care to know
I hate the ones that waste away
I will not fall into yesterday
The past few months I've been away
I find myself at ease through the chaos and decay
Somehow I feel at home out here I'm now at peace
No more searching for a way to find release
I hate the ones that waste away
I've finally found my peace I'm now at home
I'm glad I chose this road to roam
No time to look back on my lonely past
I've finally found my home at last
