

No Harm Done "The Untouchables"

Everything's familiar to me here
Yet nothing stays the same
Maybe it's just me I'm not keeping up
This life's not gonna last another day
I hope we all die another day

And to this city hold on tight
The sky is falling on to this night

I can't close my eyes tonight
I can't find a reason why
I see it time after time
Again in my mind

But we're still here so desperately
We hold onto what we can't see

No one understands
Why I keep falling
No one seems to care
I can't go on
It's frustration
Just another day
We'll die another day

I won't close my eyes
