We are not number one there are countries better than us,
So don't you say that we are free just because you don't see
All the violence and the struggling on a world that's bound to die
If we don't unite together, we'll all go down straight to hell.

Why does the election have to be stolen?
A real leader would be chosen by the citizens
Not his administration.
This is why our country is not number one.

Putting a flag on your car doesn't make up for your part,
You have to do more than say you're proud
And put your hand over your heart,
Or sing along with the songs you love,
Pledge allegiance to above.
When the president doesn't care,
People need to be aware.
