Patience; a virtue worth waiting for Patience; a virtue we're longing for I'm wasting my time thinking of what to say to you

Come let's make some haste with what we're trying to say
Let's make some haste; make some haste
I've been waiting for some kind of resolution
But I'm beginning to wonder

I hear the calling, but still no answer
I can't see it before me; give me a sign
My hands are open, give it to me

I'm not satisfied with this right now
All this waiting is killing me
It's killing me

I'm trapped inside this uncertainty
I need something to reassure me
I'm trapped inside this uncertainty
I need something
I need to get out

Get me out...
