You're supportive, when you look down on me
Living restless in your arms
The world is more than you wanted me to ever see
So perfect, keeping me from harm
Well I hate this place
I hate this feeling down
To you do I really exist?
Your hedonistic life and what it's done
I can't believe you don't resist as one
You're so useless when you try to guide me
Guilt that makes you bigger than me
There's something burning through
Leaves me feeling so empty
Denial forces you to...
I will go, I will go, I will leave
This path that you place ahead of me
I will go, I will go, I will leave
This is nothing but a game for you to play
You're indifferent, hearing me say
As one
