This freezing rain tickles upon us
This silence is suffocating me
I know what's coming keep the tears in
This life feels like stopping in vain
I tried my hardest and I'm sorry

A Scattered hope fall into pieces

I felt your goodbye is getting close
We'll meet some other time
Once I hear the sound

Stay awake on my side tonight,
You're my last remaining light
And I won't try to leave you on your own
Watching this world falls apart

Isolate myself, as much as I can from you
No words spoken between us two

I felt your goodbye is getting close
We'll meet some other time
Once I hear the sound

Stay awake on my side tonight,
You're my last remaining light
And I won't try to leave you on your own
Watching this world falls apart

Nobody sees our destiny
Nobody knows how it will be
Cause we're just hiding inside here to wait and see
