Something has changed
But I don't know what it is
Something has grown inside
Something has changed
But I don't know what it is
Something has changed

Somebody called
In the middle of the night
Somebody called my name
Somebody called
In the middle of the night
Something has changed

Something has flown
Now I don't know anything
Something has shown it's face
Something has come
And I want to let it in
Something is telling me it's time to put my weapons
Down and let it begin

If I would jump
To the bottom of the well
What would I find down there?
Water or sand
At the bottom of the well
Think I will jump

Something has changed
But I don't know what it is
Something has grown inside
Something has come
And I want to let it in
Something is telling me it's time to put my weapons
Down and let it begin

Don't forget to call us
Wear a sweater
Will you be home for the holidays?

Something has changed
