

Noa "Today"

Here we are again
After everything has happened
Only you and me
And the light is fading fast
Who would have believed
When the tiny seed was planted
This would be the year
When the rain would come at last

Every passing hour
Changes us
But i love you more than any day before today
Today

Listen to my heart
As it stutters like the raindrops
Let me fill my soul
With the beauty of your eyes
I may be a fool
But i always want to hold you
Tenderly i say
You give reason to my life

Every passing hour
Changes us
But i love you more than any day before today
Today
