I am the wizard, thy inner mirror, of thy unconscious persense. A demon from within

I am the frozen memories, reflections of the past In dreams I reveal myself to thee, exploring the meander of they mind.

I'm reviving visios left unknown, to make thee see.
thy life to be. I whisper secrets in thy dreams I show thee fractions from beyond, thy conscious life reality, I am thy inner, predacious entity.
In a higher sphere I welcome thee to resign thyself to me.

Within my dream dominions, I am supreme Thy soul is mine to shape, a naked canvas to preject my painless drawings my demonic fantasies upon

Colder than ice my black heart pounds

Within thy thoughts, I am as god.
I am thy inner voice from deep inside
I make my will be thing

I thrive of thee, thy soul is mine to conquer Thy weekness makes me stronger, they thoughts is mine to devoir. Within thy mind corrosions my worms will gnaw
My tongue commands the legions, of malicious whispers from the dead, the voices laughing inside thy head
I am the wizard, thy inner mirror, of thy unconscious persense. A demon from within

I will not rest until my nightmare-is thing I'll never free thee from my spell, thy soul is bound to within darkness dwell.

A demon from within...
