I hear no voices telling me what to do my heart is broken and I feel too small when I am by your side I don't know what to say bad luck surround us I should accept I was just something you used when you felt down
I know I am stupid 'cause I stay around

And I wish you walked away

You walked in the rain
I cooked something to eat you came all the way down when I was here trying to tell me stay away 'cause she is not real she reads about nature in magazines

And I wish you walked away

You don't know how it feels to have the chance of telling all about these secrets I kept inside and screw it all by staying in silence

And I wish you walked away
And I wish you walked away
And I wish you walked away
And I wish I walked away
