Come and sit here for a while, try to be like everyone else

Come and listen to me now, don't believe in anyone
else

Can't you see repetition was all you got
Don't believe competition for your feeble mind

Can't you see competition for your feeble mind
Was all that you ever got You've been taken for a ride and you didn't even know
You were blinded by your pride, there was no way you could know

Can't you see repetition was all you got
Don't believe competition for your feeble mind
Can't you see competition for your feeble mind
Was all that you ever got

Can't you see repetition was all you got
Don't believe competition for your feeble mind
Can't you see competition for your feeble mind
