I remember when you say goodbye
How you broke my heart
I still can't understand the reason why
And it's tearing me apart

I thought that now i'd be over you
Guess I should have known
Cause now you're here with me I realize i can't make it on my own

We're starting all over and over
Over and over
Starting it all over again
And it's driving me crazy
I think that I'm maybe
Falling in love with you
All over again

How can I be the man you want me to be
If you won't take my hand
Don't you know you're everything to me
And I'm trying to understand

We're starting all over and over
Over and over
Starting it all over again
And it's driving me crazy
I think that I'm maybe
Falling in love with you
All over again

We're going round again
On the neverending will
It's time to stop pretending
Why can't you see?
You're so precious to me
Baby we're meant to be

We're starting all over and over
Over and over
Starting it all over again

And it's driving me crazy
I think that I'm maybe
Falling in love with you
All over again
