She's a painting outta focus With No Good Sense Of Intention Shes Authentic Shes a model of disaster with a heart of revolution
She's so innocent, But guilty's her plea Everybody wants to save her from herself, they really want to save themselves

She's got the grace, of a tourist, with the charm of demolition

She's a poem with meter or rhyme A random design of a flower like a rose no one really knows She's a master piece deserving restoration or condemnation Tim will tell us if She's a lifer or a decomposeur She's the rose no one really knows
