This is not a test.
Not true, this kind of is a test of our endurance.
There's really no one left to place the blame on and hang in effigy
This ones not relived by a regime, it also took a hundred million
of angry, stupid, scared, pathetic populace to complete the deed.

and it's a long, long way down
and there's no climbing back so wave buh-bye and its a long, long free dive, so fill your lungs with air and grab a weight.
It's been a long time coming and well deserved.

It's time to reapply what we call neighborhoods and start to trust your neighbors.
Circle the figurative wagons and figure it's gonna be a long painful de-evolution that goes on for decades America as we know it is finished, fermenting and flailing.

and it's a long, long way down.
The parachutes are gone so grab a smoke.
and it's a long, long free fall.
no signs of soft landing b-bon voyage.
It's been a long time coming and well deserved.
