"Jaundiced Eye"

Black is so beautiful, white is so pure
Can you see a difference? All I see's a blur
Is one color a virtue? How can you be sure?
Ignorance the disease, education the cure

So, how can you say that you're proud of your race?
Proud of your tenure, proud of your faith
Fascism, racism starts out the same
Stop feeding the fire, I'll put out the flame

Some people smarter than others so dumb
The reason behind is a cultural one
And greatness, it isn't carried by blood
Get off your high horse, you're no better than us
You got the jaundiced eye, you can't deny

All seems infected that the infected spy
As all looks yellow to the jaundiced eye
You're the infected, you can never deny
You're arrogant, you're ignorant, living a lie

How can you say that you're proud of your race?
Proud of your tenure, proud of your faith
Fascism, racism starts out the same
Stop feeding the fire, I'll put out the flame
