Is it any wonder why you're living in sin?
Its no surprise to me cos u never let me in
I look into your eyes and all I see is pain
These awful scars are all that's driving you insane

Is it any wonder why I don't want to know you?
You're empty heart took me in and threw me right back out
And now I feel like I am living in a hole
It's all because of you; you made me think it was alright

I open up my mouth but all I speak are empty words
Your false intentions were what kept me alive
I told you I was afraid of the mess you were creating
You didn't listen now you're paying for your lies

So now I lie awake, thinking what could've been Its all so silent now just like it was before
I start to drift away and as I do I see
Those empty eyes again, its no surprise to me
