Saved, draped in the blood
I don't deserve pedigree lies they insinuate truth
Born from a name you didn't choose Expectations you confused

The coroner comes today with so many choices to make
I don't take for granted the gifts from you
A birthright advantage born from you

So celebrate, raise your glass, the hardest part has already past.
Our minds are calling for the end! Oh, oh.
So raise your glass and descend! Oh, oh.

It's the same as the salt of the earth and sea
Saved, draped in the blood
I don't deserve pedigree lies, they insinuate truth
The coroner comes today with so many choices to
make
I don't take for granted the gifts from you
A birthright advantage born from you

So celebrate, raise your glass, the hardest part has already past.
Our minds are calling for the end! Oh, oh.
So raise your glass and descend! Oh, oh.
