In the beginning, the faith never end
Do you feel the same sensation for nothing
The last hope, that exist in your life
Leave behind my sense... my fear

Dark covers the night
God falls over your hands
Black wishes, shields of old dreams

Dark covers the day. Sons fall into your eyes
The pride of my soul, the price of my choice
Let me show you the way
The real conflict between us
When your words release my pain
And your decision after that, my ambition
