I've never felt this way before
It seems as though I've earned my wings
I wear a smile all the time now
To compliment my wedding ring

I hear that heaven is twice as this
But I must admit
I'd give it up for you
And you'd do the same too

When I speak of you
I can taste all my words
To savor its sweetness
An afterthought occurred

I thought I found love before
But I must admit it couldn't have been
No one in my life
Has made me feel this pure and genuine

Chorus
I've found this love of mine
Gonna let my light shine
Has to be a miracle, magical
Angel

I've found this love of mine
Gonna let my light shine
It has to be a love spell, that's magical
Angel

Now I wake to sounds of bells
The echo of the ring
Plays familiar song now
That influenced me to sing

I can smell daffodils
Without seeing one in sight
Now I know the fragrance of color
From black to white

Sugar water, drops of pearls

Both rain from the sky
You never need to wonder
Does love feeling die?

I hear that heaven is twice as this
But I must admit
I'd rather be happy with you
My dreams came true

Repeat Chorus
