Were all dying to try and find something we can believe in
That gives us hope and gives us faith.
That gives us whatever it takes to give us a meaning to
why well live or why well die.
Why are we so afraid that everything we believe means
nothing all?
What if it means nothing at all? So what if it means nothing at all.
At some point we became afraid that there's nothing
we can believe in.
It's the hope that gives us faith and gives us the solace
It takes to believe in ourselves at the times well need it the most.
So why are we so afraid if everything we denounce
means nothing at all?
So what if it means nothing at all. What if it means
nothing all?
What if WE mean nothing at all?
