We were moving it was constant endless
Pursuing the adrenaline entrance
Hard living but it felt so dangerous
Treating it like a game

I was heading in my own direction
You were looking for a little attention
We found a beautiful connection and
We didn't contemplate

When there were problems
We just tried to solve them
But we didn't stop them
From ruining what we made

Do you remember that?

We ran till we both were stranded
Tried sitting but we couldn't stand it
Almost made it but we fell short handed
Figuring out we changed

I was left with my own intentions
You were left looking for affection
We kept something we didn't mention
Swimming in side our veins

When there were problems
We just tried to solve them
But we didn't stop them
From ruining what we made

Do you remember?
I want to be remembered
So will you remember me?

What has passed
We can't take back
But what we had was real

I want to be remembered
Do you remember?

We were stranded in different places
Looking back at the distance faces
We passed when we had no basis
Living through the phase

I answered my own questions
You tried to learn your lessons
We used the beautiful connections
And we didn't contemplate

Yeah there are problems
And we tried to solve them
Now it's never often
That they ruin anything

I want to be remembered
So will you remember me?

I can't believe that I need to know.
