you have gone away and that's alright with me i know theres much to learn and i know theres much to see but deep inside your heart where our lost love can be found theres a guy that waits for you but he's waiting until now she's going away away from me and now she's gone and now i see that if i look away there's a lesson learned that it's over now it's lost forever

what if i woke up in my dreams exactly how real would it seem would it be sure to last forever would you be right there by my side would you be with me for the ride there's nothing that we could not endeavor even though i've been alone without you holding me the jerk that holds you know has something over me if theres such a thing as love and i'm sure there probably is then your love has skipped my heart and i'm hurting all within

that if i look away there's a lesson learned
that it's over now it's lost forever
exactly how it wouldn't seem would it be sure to last forever
would you be right there by my side
i'd be there with you for the ride

and you've kept me around around for this long you start to go down i come along the only time life seems fair is when i sleep later on so you know i'll be sleeping when you're gone
