If this love lasts forever, then by that bond we'll be together

She said that I can't take this anymore
The way we're living
About to give in
Looking for something more
We can catch the 3:00 for the coast
And live for what we love the most
We could be lovers on the run now
Just throwing caution to the wind

She said, she said "Let's get going, it's almost half past two.
I don't wanna fall apart, fall apart without you"
I said "Go without me, the west coast begs for you.
I'll try not to fall apart, you know I love you too"

I know that this time sorry just won't do
I want you to know that my heart will ache for you Can't we pretend that this isn't goodbye

She said, she said "Let's get going, it's almost half
past two.
I don't wanna fall apart, fall apart without you"
I said "Go without me, the west coast begs for you.
I'll try not to fall apart, you know I love you too"

Save me and I'll save you
I'll show you what I've been through

She said, she said "Let's get going, it's almost half
past two.
I don't wanna fall apart"
I said "Go without me, the west coast begs for you.
I'll try not to fall apart"

If this love last forever, then by that bond we'll be together
