I'd call but I know just what you'll say
We do the same thing everyday
And I know that
I say, You say
There's gotta be a better way
To do this

And I love you's just not enough
Too little, too late to save us
I tried to shoulder the blame
But it wasn't enough to change

Lights out without you
These sheets have never been so cold
Never thought that I'd lose
A love that could have grown so old
Lights out without you
Is this life worth anything at all?
I think we both knew
Where all the pieces would fall

We try to work through our pain
We do the same thing everyday
I know that
I try, You try
Just to feel like we're still alive
This is where you say

And I love you's just not enough
Too little, too late to save us
I tried to shoulder the blame
But it wasn't enough to change

Lights out without you
These sheets have never been so cold
Never thought that I'd lose
A love that could have grown so old
Lights out without you
Is this life worth anything at all?
I think we both knew
Where all the pieces would fall

I know where I'd rather be
When I'm with anyone else
So find a place in me
Where you can find yourself
Now I sleep to dream
It's the only thing that helps
Find a place in me
Where you can find yourself

Lights out without you
These sheets have never been so cold
Never thought that I'd lose
A love that could have grown so old
Lights out without you
Is this life worth anything at all?
I think we both knew
Where all the pieces would fall
Lights out without you...
