If I could only see you when you're not acting oh so typical
This town is so predictable
difficult
You got me right where you want me
With my back against the wall and nobody's thinking of me

I'm calling on all free hands now Someone's gotta help me save a life tonight Your voice inside my head is screaming out 'Till we turn wrong into right

You know, I've had better
You know I'd never hurt you Never say never

If you could only see me, on my own I bet you'd never believe me
But now I'm gone so now who's wrong
If you could only see me, you'd be down on your knees and you'd be crying to me I'm not listening, I'm not listening no no no
With my back against the wall and nobody's thinking of
me

Why can't I seem to get this right?
