I guess it's alright
I've got my hands tied and
And I guess I'm on my way down
These streets feel colder, I'm getting over the fact
I'm chained to a past, stuck in this town
All that I've said and done means nothing
I've learned to let it pass me by
Like days and weeks do

Feels like I've been awake for days
I don't regret these choices made
And I'm still plagued with doubts
And there's nothing I can do to change it now

There was one more black cloud in my mind
As I, I watched that taxi drive away
Stood at the bottom, spring felt like autumn
As I, I watched the city lights turn grey
All that I've said and done means nothing
I've learned to let life pass me by
Like days and weeks do

Feels like I've been awake for days
I don't regret these choices made
And I'm still plagued with doubts
And there's nothing I can do to save this now

I guess it's alright
I've got my hands tied and
And I wont struggle on my way down

On my way down
