[Biggie's mom]

Lets say there are many times as i looked and saw reflections of my son (Biggie) we argued sometimes and saltied i sorrowed thoughts and said "Well Done" i thoght of him (Biggie) constantly and silently asked why i tried fervently and just can not say goodbye i lived with visions twined and twisted passion so cold and withered thoughts battered and shattered. i dream dreams, cherished memories, housed friendships, and promises that mattered. in the end, time is treasured. like love for my son, its everlasting
