

Crosby Stills Nash "Seen Enough"

I lost my innocence over intolerance
All the indignities heaped on the black man
We went to Church they all prayed for the white man
The cops and the preachers were most of 'em in the clan
What's a kid s'posed to think
When the adults are all such hypocrites impossibly smug

I have seen enough
I have seen enough of this
Had enough
Quite enough, I swear

The next generation, the Woodstock nation
A little bit flaky but no hesitation
Stop the war it wasn't worth dyin' for The paranoia of the cold warriors
Arrogant old men with domino theories
Fractured fairy tales tryin' to kill me

I've seen enough
I have seen enough of this
I have read enough
History to see right through this

You got outcast, upset people you never met
Locked in the basement
Hot wired to the net, isolated, infuriated
The punchline to the joke is how they are gonna smoke
Every last stuck up snob ever dissed them
Look in their eyes how could you miss them?

Ain't you seen enough?
I have seen enough of this
I've had quite enough
Seen enough
[Incomprehensible]

We got dead eyed, dead drunk, dead stupid, cyberpunks
Fed up killer geeks, Gigabyte Meth freaks

Home alone in a world of their own
Up all night in the thick of the fight
Fantasy combat, veteran psychos
Removed from reality by silicone diodes

Seen enough
I have seen enough of this
Have you read enough
Son, you don't know nothin' about it

You got power book potentates, pointedly obviate
Every opinion they have about anything
Even if they don't know shit, stay in the limelight
Got your own website, got all the answers
Ain't got a lick of sense
Practicing psychiatry without a license

Ain't you seen enough
Had enough of this
I have had enough
Ain't it bad enough for you yet

So, you got overfed talking heads on television
Ignoring the obvious with pained expressions
Ask the ones that sell the damn guns
By the truckload every day fast as they can make 'em
What's a kid s'posed to think
When the adults refuse all accountability when they fuck up

Ain't you seen enough
Ain't you had enough of this
Goddamn tired enough
Have we done enough about this?
I have seen enough
