If anyone wants to know where to find me
I'll be right here in the warmth of your arms
'Cause you, you're the one I can trust in You've never done me any harm

I'm putting all my troubles behind me
I don't feel the same when I am away from your smile
'Cause you, you're the one that can calm me down
Whenever I get wild

Fooling myself about how to exist
All by myself there was much I had missed
You came and showed me what happiness is

Fooling myself about how to exist
All by myself there was much I had missed
You came and showed me what happiness is

If anyone wants to know where my heart is Tell everyone that's it's wrapped around yours
'Cause you, you're the one I can turn to
You opened up the door
