Maybe it's all in the way you move me
Or maybe it's just in the way you move
Either way, this goes far beyond your beauty
And that probably explains why we're both just So confused...

I've been drowning in the depths of the thoughts
That consume my troubled mind
But everytime I think about the fire surrounding us
I can't help but smile

CHORUS

If things were different
Maybe in another life
We've got our wishes
But I still won't resist you
When I close my eyes at night
Tell me your secrets
I'll gladly tell you mine
I got this feeling but I...
I can't keep it inside

Maybe it's all in the way you understand
Every little thing that helps me breathe
Or maybe we've rented out a room in a castle made of sand
Undertow's gonna pull us
Off our feet

Should have known better than to try
To deny what's pouring out of me
Should I just let her hold tight
And explore all my possibilities

CHORUS

If things were different
Maybe in another life
We've got our wishes
But I still won't resist you
When I close my eyes at night
Tell me your secrets
I'll gladly tell you mine

I got this feeling but I...
I can't keep it inside
