"Madness Descends"

Another time of madness descends
Why can't the hatred ever seem to end
Man against man brothers fighting one another
And no one ready to make amends
Violence calls to my spirit and my sanity
As madness sweeps all reason from my mind
I see the horsemen coming
Out of the west like a hurricane
I hear the horesmen calling out my name
Fingers of hate now pluck the strings of my heart
My blood sings red with a bloody want
As my soul screams a futile cry for reason
The riders call to my basest part
I see the horsemen coming
Out of the west like a hurricane
I hear the horesmen calling out my name
When the time of violent outrage now arrives
Are the horesmen waiting from the side
In this time when the world can reach no reason
Or is this the calm before the storm
I hear
I see
